DETAILED ACTION

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The rejection of claims 24-30 under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Huang et al. (3,683,044) in view of Nishimura et al. (5,356,961) has been maintained and is as set forth in the previous office action.

Allowable Subject Matter

As set forth in the previous office action, claims 31-58 are allowed. A reasonable search of the prior art of record failed to reveal the limitations as set forth. Huang et al. and Nishimura et al. do not teach or disclose a flexible polymer film, or the multilayered laminates as claimed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 7/6/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Regarding applicant's arguments that the polyamine of Nishimura et al. contains an epichlorohydrin residue, the formula of Nishimura et al., for instance in the abstract, clearly shows that n is an integer of 0 or 1 or greater. If n is 0, then this structure does not contain epichlorohydrin. This is then the same compound as claimed by applicant. Further, applicant's claim language does not exclude any other reactants from the reaction.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
